Heart of Ohio Family Health welcomes new providers

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Heart of Ohio Family Health (HOFH) is pleased to welcome two providers to the staff.

Caitlin Phillips, LSW, received her BSW from Ohio University and her MSW from The Ohio State University. Phillips will offer clinical trauma-informed behavioral health interventions for patients. Her practice area interests include LGBTQ+ issues, trauma, and adolescents and young adult behavioral health counseling. She will be working at the James B. Feibel Center, 5000 E. Main St., Columbus.

Sabrina Perry, CCHW, completed her community health worker training with The Ohio State University College of Nursing in 2021. A South Linden area resident, she will work with infant patients, focusing on combating infant mortality risks, at the Feibel Center.

“We are pleased to have these providers join our staff,” said Dr. M. Buhari Mohammed, CEO. “Our healthcare team fosters a holistic approach to healthcare, and dedicated to advancing health equity, ensuring everyone in our diverse community has equal access to quality and affordable care in a safe space.”

All providers at HOFH are committed to providing quality healthcare to every person, regardless of an ability to pay.
